COMMENT:
The college administration doesn't have a "Dean of the College." There is a president, an administrative assistant and a dean of students. Who is the "Dean" who has veto power?

Section 4
The Dean and two faculty advisors, all of whom shall have been elected on all issues brought before the Senate.

COMMENT:
This mistake is probably just one in a series. Obiously five, six and three do not make ten. Perhaps it was meant to say that there should be five members from the Freshman class, two from the Sophomore class, one from the Junior class, one from the Senior class, and the Dean and two faculty advisors, all of whom shall have been elected on all issues brought before the Senate.

Section 3

Section 4
Any Senator who is absent from three meetings for reasons deemed unsatisfactory by the executive committee shall be removed from membership at the next election.

Lancer Gets Viet Pay

"Don't spend it all in one place," admonished Alan Dickson, CCC shum, when he sent the Vietnam paper money to the LANCER.

A 1967 graduate and former LANCER reporter, Dickson is now serving with the Company B, 2nd Battalion (Mech), of the U.S. Army's 17th Infantry in Vietnam. The money, pictured here, came in a letter dated Feb. 18. At the top of the letter, Alan wrote "309 days to go." He said he had been given a "fairly good job" in the mortar section as computer of the Fire Direction Center. He plans action is being completely ignored by the school administration and the Student Senate.

ALL ACTIVITY FUNDS ARE

The Senate gives its estimated total of expenses for the year to college administration just as the rest of the school organizations do. They are allotted a certain percentage of the activity fund just like the rest of the organizations.

Is this a dictatorship on the part of the administration or is it due to the inability of the Senate to handle its own affairs? Judging from past Senate-sponsored events in which deficits resulted, the latter of the two possibilities is more likely.

Since the Senate is not, in fact, now responsible for allocation of funds, it would not be necessary for them to hold the special meeting as stated in the second paragraph of Article IX.

The last sentence gives the Senate great powers over expenditures of student groups. Although they carefully examined budgets submitted by organizations last spring, the final allotment of funds was not left in their hands. The Senate got to make decisions only on the minor portion of activity fees allocated for its use. That was all.

TO BECOME MISSIONARY

BY DAVE PRESSER

Miss Sharon Vaughn, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Vaughn of Gurnee, Illinois, is withdrawing from school to begin her study as a missionary.

Miss Vaughn is leaving in August for Moberly, Mo., where she will enter Moberly Christian College. She plans to take special training for missionaries to prepare for a job in Oklahoma at Cookson Hill Church School for Disabled Children.

She first started thinking about becoming a missionary at the age of 13. At that time she told Rev. Forrest Wise of the Bureau Christian Church that she would like to become a missionary.

Sharon does not fit the characteristics usually associated with the stereotyped idea of missionaries. The attractive, vivacious girl is very active at college and participates in various groups.

She recently was appointed to the Student Senate. A puppy cheerleader, she is also a top student academically. Outside of school she works 20 hours a week, is a member of the Fulton County Young Democrats, and was a candidate for Fulton County Queen.

Sharon graduated from V.I.T. High School in 1957 where she ranked among the top 10.

Rev. Marshall Blum, a field representative for Cookson Hill Church and school for disabled children, had influenced Sharon very much in her decision to become a missionary.

NEW COMBO TO RECORD

The "Conspiracy" is a relatively new combo in which a Canton College student plays lead guitar.

Frank Woods of Canton College is the group's lead guitar player and singer. He is a native of Dallastown, Illinois, and a graduate of Williamsville High School. He has been playing guitar five years.

Other group members include: Tim Bernovich, Farmington, drummer; Ron Negley, Farmington, rhythm guitar and singer; Randy Schoonover, Canton, bass; Mike Foshey, London Mills, guitarist; and Tony Foshey, singer. Bernovich, 19, has been playing drums about seven years. Schoonover, 18, has been playing guitar about three years ago. Negley, 17, started playing guitar about three years ago. Mike Foshey, 16, started playing the organ and other keyboard instruments about six years ago. He also plays trumpet and French horn in the Valley Senior High School Band.

Foshey, who has been recently added to the group, plays guitar and organ. All members of the "Conspiracy" play music with more than one instrument.

The group has recently invested $100 in new instruments. Most of the "Conspiracy" material is original as they have two composers in the group, Frank Woods and Ken Negley. The "Conspiracy" hopes to record "Miss September" and a few other originals in the near future.

LOOK OUT FOR EFFINGHAM

by GARY MEYERS

Look out for Effingham in the state finals. If this gigantic team makes it to the finals they may win without any trouble.

Last year, the Illini Vaulters were turned back in the semi-finals by a team which is well-known, the Collinville Kitts. Effingham was beaten badly, but the reason was that the Effingham team lacks important experience which this year they have.

They are the leading team in their tough South Central Conference and have beaten many good teams in the surrounding area.

The height of the Effingham team may play a big role in its effort to get to the state finals. The starting lineup boasts a 6'7" center, two 6'7" forwards and guards are between 5'10" and 6'7".

Effingham will have a tough job to do before they get to state. They have to play some of the best known basketball teams in Illinois.

Collinville, Carbondale and Breese are some prime examples of teams which Effingham faces in its struggle for the right to go to state. This team, however, is ranked No. 1 in the state, so with any work at all they should be representing the southern part of the state in the basketball finals.
WESTERN TO GET RETC

"A real opportunity for all men" is the summation made by John Weston, director of Informational Understanding, upon invitation by the Army Western Illinois University will have a non-commissioned Army Reserve Officer Training Corps Program.

Weston also stated, "Western feels extremely fortunate to be among 15 schools in the country chosen to initiate this program out of 87 who qualified. This hundred and eighteen schools applied for the ROTC Program. The Army has awarded the senior ROTC programs to Western, allowing the young men in the field of general military studies.

The ROTC Vitalization Act of 1961 developed a new two-year program which is of interest to the junior college student. This is essentially for students who have not had an opportunity to take the basic course.

Under this program, the student enrolls and undertakes his military arts course at ECC, who in past years directed the military "Okies" at the Fulton County Playhouse and who will return this spring to direct "The Rainmaker." Marine lived up to his reputation in the production of "Dark of the Moon" and considering the excellence of the stage facilities at the Scottish Rite Cathedral where the play was held, the production could only be described as a beautiful and wonderful experience.

Unfortunately, the audience appeared to expect something that was beyond the scope of what they were seeing but never really knew that was being challenged by the final moment of the play, both in terms of the writing and the action and in the transition to and from the audience, the audience was never able to see fully what was taking place.

The play was written by the author, Michaelدل, and was performed by the students from ECC who were able to draw upon their own experiences to bring this play to life. The audience was left feeling frustrated and unable to connect with the characters and their motivations.
