NIXON EDGES R.F.K. IN STRAW VOTE

MORE HAWKS THAN DOVES ON CCC CAMPUS

Decidedly more "hawkish" than "dovish", Canton College voters prefer Richard Nixon to all other potential presidential candidates. Robert Kennedy, top vote - getter among the Democrats, received 21 fewer votes than the GOP winner in campus voting April 3 and 4.

Slightly less than 200 ballots were cast in the straw vote sponsored by the LANCER. Newspaper staff members, in charge of the two-day event where voters were asked to register, said 21 teachers and four secretaries were included among the 200 who expressed presidential preferences but no effort was made to keep their votes separate.

Final tally of votes gave these results:

For the Republican party -- Nixon, 60; Charles Percy, 14; Nelson Rockefeller, 8; Ronald Reagen, 7; New York City Mayor John Lindsay, 1 (write-in).

For the Democratic party -- Kennedy, 41; President Lyndon Johnson, 26; Eugene McCarthy, 23; Ted Kennedy, 1 (write-in).

Other political parties -- George Wallace, 6; Dan Gurney, 1 (write-in); Johnny Carson, 1 (write-in).

Voters were also given the opportunity to evaluate themselves in regard to the Viet Nam war on a nine-point scale. A total of 82 persons placed themselves on the side of the Hawks while 55 persons showed a preference for a "Dove" attitude and 30 placed themselves in the middle of the scale. Nine persons made no mark on the scale.

In a similar poll at Bradley University 662 voters rated themselves more "hawk" than "dove" while 630 voters were on the other side of the 149 students who placed their check directly in the middle.

Nearby Illinois Central College Students also recently conducted a straw vote. The elected television comedian Pat Paulsen.

Although less than one-fourth of the student body visited the polls in Dahm Hall, the total number of votes cast exceeded the number cast last fall in the Student Senate election.

Representatives of the campus Young Republican and Young Democrat clubs who helped tabulate votes expressed the hope that the LANCER would conduct another straw vote next fall after the political conventions and before the November election.

SENATE PLANS SPRING EVENTS

The possibility of contracting Tommy James and the Shondells for the May Ball was discussed at the Student Senate meeting April 1. Also at the meeting plans for Crusaders Day, May 1, were made.

An offer was made by Darrell Negley, speech instructor for the evening classes, to aid the Senate in getting a band from St. Louis. Negley reported that the band is one of the finest "pro" groups he has heard, he further said that the band was well received at Western Illinois University.

The Senate began making plans for the annual Senate elections. Petitions were made available April 8. They are to be turned in at a later date that is to be announced. Election date is April 24. Freshmen will be chosen for the offices of President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, with the "all" Constitution rules being used.

During the rest of the two-hour meeting members discussed revisions of the Constitution.

It was the decision of the Senate that new appointees should not be present at Senate meetings at which the Senate votes approval or disapproval of his appointment.

A further revision would change the Constitution to provide for 15 senators. Their grade point average must be 1.5 to remain on the Senate, (the same for athletes) and would further establish a faculty advisory committee comprised of the president, dean, and two other faculty advisors.

Senators present at the meeting were: Dan Kelly, Jack Flanagan, Milinda Inman, Larry Berry, Marcia Murphy, Steve Walden, Scott Doubet, Steve Brugger, Patti Cranwell and Ron Kahn. The meeting started at 5:15 p.m. and was adjourned at 7:20 p.m.

AUTO ACCIDENT HOSPITALIZES 2

Donnie Howard and Frank D. Woods, Canton College students, were seriously injured about 1 a.m., April 3 in a one-car accident near Peoria.

Authorities at St. Francis Hospital, where both youths were admitted for treatment, said Howard suffered a fractured right leg and a fractured jaw. He was reported in fair condition the afternoon after the accident. The 20-year-old-student's home is in Decatur.

Woods, also 20 years old, whose home is in Dahinda, was being treated for multiple abrasions and lacerations. Results of x-rays were not known. He too was in fair condition.

According to Peoria County sheriff's deputies who investigated, the car, driven by Howard, went out of control while traveling west in the 5500 block of Farmington Road. The car apparently went off the left side of the road and crashed into an embankment.

Limestone Volunteer Fire Department was called when the car's motor caught fire, but the fire had been extinguished by nearby residents before firemen arrived.

BISHOP RETURNS FROM SOUTHERN COLLEGE TOUR

Hearl C. Bishop, president of Canton Community College, returned recently from a two-week southern trip where he visited a number of junior college campuses.

President Bishop said he was particularly interested in seeing the two campuses of Miami-Dade Junior College in Florida which accommodates about 23,000 students. Looking ahead to the time when what is now Canton College becomes a Class I junior college with its own campus, Bishop took note of the innovations at Florida. He said he hoped to learn "what not to do as opposed to what to do."

In a visit to Broward County Junior College in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., he observed that the 6,000 - member student body attended classes in multi-buildings as opposed to the centralized learning centers at Miami-Dade. Building are elaborate on Florida campuses, Bishop said, because the responsibilities for funding them do not rely on local taxpayers. The state takes 10 per cent of all revenue from legalized gambling at horse racing and dog racing tracks.

The president also consulted directors of various programs at several schools, comparing them with CCC offerings.

He was favorably impressed, he said, with the relationships of Negro and white students in Tennessee and Georgia. He cited as an example seeing a Negro student helping two Caucasians with a math lesson at Emory College in Atlanta, Ga.

235 APPLY FOR ENTRANCE TO CCC

Mrs. Charlotte Phillips, secretary of admissions, said that 235 applications have been received to attend Canton Community College next fall. Of these applicants, 75 of them are residents of the F.M.K. Junior College District, and that 150 have applied from outside the district. Some feelers have been received from as far away as Maine, New Jersey, and Japan.

Mrs. Phillips said that she receives many inquiries daily from students asking for applications. She said that between 12 to 25 persons are proceeded each week.

The school is using a "data sheet" for the first time next year. This sheet will be sent to all applicants. This will ask for all the facts about a person and be sent back to the school with a transcript of High School grades, health recrods, and pre-registration fees. All this information will then be transferred to a Data Processing Card and a complete record will be held on each student.

Mrs. Phillips said that she is receiving inquiries from persons interested in the curriculums of Civil Engineering Technology, Farm Machine Technology, Agricultural Management, and Machine Design Technology because these fields are not offered at many Junior Colleges in this area.

All applicants must have their applications, fees and out of district authorizations in by July First.

JOINS STAFF

Dr. Walter Karrick, former superintendent of Havana schools, will serve as business agent for the new Class I FMK junior college.

His appointment was announced April 1. He will assume his new duties July 1, the same day a new board of trustees will begin its duties.

A graduate of Pekin Community High School and Western Illinois University, he earned his doctorate in 1966 at Indiana University. He and Mrs. Karrick are the parents of six children ranging in age from three months to 13 years. The Karricks reside at Havana.

It takes practice to negotiate the outside fire escape at Dahm Hall, but it can be done.

LETTERS TO THE EDITORS

Dear Editors:

The "brotherly" activities that you mentioned in your March 28 issue are among some of the nicer events that take place within Greek organizations.

There are some things that happen that one wouldn't expect to find occuring in the human race, and especillay among young "adults" who are supposedly becoming more educated and civilized.

One can look anywhere on campus and find evidence that our fraternities and sororities are organizations which promote childishness rather than growth. Maybe in the future people will leave their juvenile antics in grade school or the crib where they really belong rather than bringing them to college with them.

Dear LANCER:

I am disturbed about the fact that Canton College could not get anything but a full orchestra for the May Ball. There are any number of good bands around like the Holidays and the "One-Eyed Jacks". The One-Eyed Jacks are fabulous and I think that the vast majority of the students would rather hear them instead of an orchestra.

--O.P.

(Editor's note: If the Senate has changed its mind about having BOTH a big orchestra and a popular band, it hasn't been publicized. If the writer of the above letter would ask a Senate member, perhaps he would find out that he has misunderstood about the May Ball entertainment.)

FMK TO NAME 7 TRUSTEES

FMK's new Board of Trustees will be elected May 18. Those seven persons will be responsible for finding suitable sites to submit to the state Junior College Board for approval and take other action such as selection of a name for the school.

For the next few years, until the new campus is established, students will continue to use the facilities of Canton College, it is believed.

L. D. Barnard, currently serving as president of the college's Board of Trustees, told a LANCER reporter that he will not be a candidate for the new board. He has served on the college board since the school was established in 1959.

It is Barnard's belief that the existing board should be available to offer any assistance necessary to the new board which will assume responsibility for the FMK junior college on July 1.

A REMINDER

Daylight Saving Time begins April 28!

That means that CCC students will lose an hour's sleep the first Sunday after they return from spring vacation.

Under the government's Uniform Time Act, which became effective in 1967, all states and U.S. possessions must observe Daylight Saving Time beginning at 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April and ending at 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October.

Students (and faculty) are being reminded early to advance their clocks one hour because the current issue of the LANCER will be the only one printed this month. Because of spring vacation only one issued is distributed in April. (There will be two issues in May.)

Illinois junior college regulations require the seven-man Board of Trustees to include two residents of rural areas. The remaining five may be from corporate areas.

DAHM NEEDS MORE FIRE DRILLS, EXITS

By Jim Hogan

Does Dahm Hall have an adequate fire escape system?

If fire were to break out in Dahm Hall, could the building be evacuated in time without the use of the stairway?

Between 300 and 400 students are in Dahm Hall in wooden classrooms during most periods of the day. Between classes, the stairway between the three floors can become blocked with students and all movement on the stairs can be stopped and become backed up in the halls.

The cooling system is located under the stairway in the wire mesh room in the basement. If a belt overheated, or an electrical fire started, the wooden stairways on all three floors could be blocked by fire in a few minutes.

Every person in the building would have to use the fire escape. On the average about 150 students would be on each floor. The third floor would be able to get on the fire escape easily. The second floor excape door would become blocked by students coming down from the third floor and students on the second floor would become backed up in the halls.

Dahm Hall's cooling system is at one end of the "Dungeon" just beneath wooden stairs, hallway. However, everything meets State Fire Code regulations.

The fire escape is wide enough to handle two students side by side on each step from the second floor. This would be about 44 students on the fire escape at a time. It would take about one minute for a student to get from the third floor to the ground level.

Since only one fire drill has taken place this year, how many students know that students on the third floor are to enter the fire escape on the right hand side in single file, and students on the second floor use the left hand side in single file?

I feel that fire drills should be staged this spring and that they should be held at random throughout the school day. Evening classes have never participated in a drill. Also I feel that THE FIRST person to get to a fire extinguisher should man it UNTIL THE BUILDING is evacuated.

C.C.C. students should know how to use the fire escape without the use of the inside stairway and proper use of the fire extinguishers should be explained in the Lancer or in practical demonstrations for teachers or a group of students.

Even though the school is now Class I, it may be three or four years before a new building system is ready. In the meantime, we need to be educated as to what to do.....

Up and down this narrow stairway in Dahm Hall pass several hundred students daily. They would have to use the outside fire escape if fire should ever break out.

LIBRARIAN TO JOIN HUSBAND IN GERMANY

To a person who has never flown before, going to Germany could be a traumatic experience.

But Mrs. Frances Rapson, leaving Monday for Giessen, Germany, says the only thing she fears is the change from one airplane to another in New York City. She is a librarian at Canton Community College.

Mrs. Rapson is going to Giessen to live with her husband stationed there in the U.S. Army.

She has been a librarian at the college since October, 1967.

Mrs. Frances Rapson

Her last day at the college library will be tomorrow. Mrs. Rapson said she has enjoyed her work library while she has been there. While here in Canton she has been living with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Noel Myers, 471 S. Main Street.

She is a graduate of Ft. Wayne Bible Institute, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Her husband, Bill, graduated from International Business College in Ft. Wayne and entered the service several days following graduation.

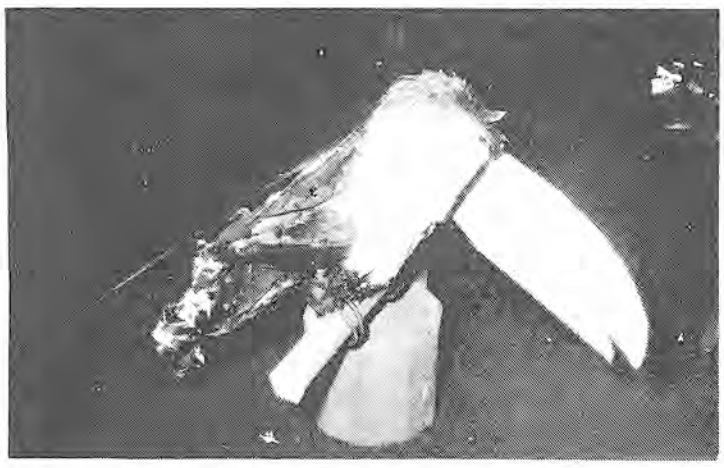

While stationed in Giessen the Rapsons plan to travel to Switzerland, Spain, and France.

Mrs. Rapson will leave Chicago nonstop to New York City at 7 a.m., Monday. She will transfer from her plane, board another, and leave New York at 5 p.m. The plane will fly nonstop to Frankfurt and arrive at 6:30 a.m., Tuesday. The flight will be between New York and will take between six and seven hours.

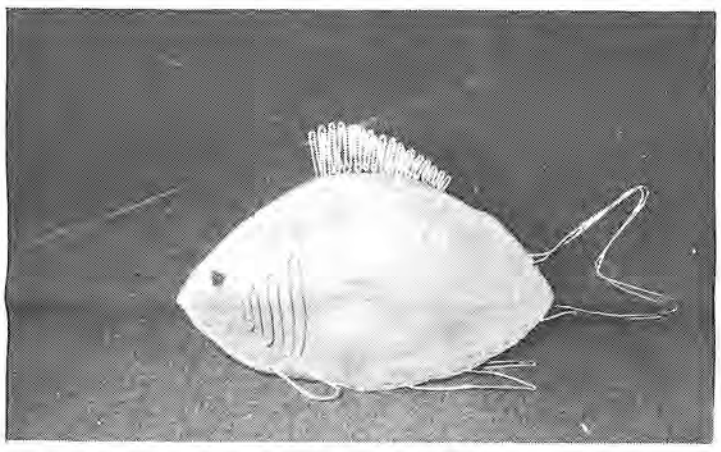

Mrs. Rapson said her only problem in Germany will be the language barrier. She said, there will be classes on the base in Giessen where she will be able to learn the language.

Giessen is a city of over 50,000. It is located north of Frankfurt.

Their address until they move into their apartment in Giessen will be Pfc. and Mrs. William Rapson, R.A. 16951528, H.H.B. 42nd A.R.T.Y.G.R., APO 09169, New York.

NEGLEY IS PART-TIME TEACHER

A part-time speech teacher, Darrell Negley, is the youngest instructor at Canton College. He is 22 years old and a full time teacher at Glasford High School.

Negley was graduated from Cuba High School, Canton Community College, and Western Illinois University. He received his bachelor of Science in Education from Western last spring.

While attending Western he was a member of Delta Sigma Phi (a social fraternity), Western Illinois University Theatre, W.I.U. Broadcaster's Club, and University Union Board Committee.

Negley enjoys hunting, fishing, and water-skiing, but his one big hobby is showing Quarter horses. He attends between one to three horse shows a week.

Negley says that he thoroughly enjoys teaching and definitely plans on making it his life time profession.

Dinner guests of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary, included new members and several faculty members. The initiation banquet was held at Westbrook's at Pekin.

Phi Theta Kappa Initiates 12

Twelve new members recently initiated bring the total membership of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary, Canton College chapter, to 22.

CCC students whose A minus averages last semester made them eligible for membership are: Derryl Pikesh, Keith Keller, Barre Hunter, Dennis Haggerty, Margaret Gilmore, John Ehrgott, Marilyn Piro, Kathleen Roselle, Richard Reils, Mary Jane Saal, Duane Wallin and Dave Willis.

Phi Theta Kappa members are required to maintain a B average in order to retain their membership.

New members were guests at a dinner meeting March at Westbrook's in Pekin at which 40 persons were present.

Harold Huber, director of Canton College vo-tech programs, was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Betty Starasta serves as adviser to the local chapter.

SIU INVITES JC GUESTS

The concerns of transfer students will be discussed by a panel of undergraduates during the annual Junior College Guest Day at Southern Illinois University April 19.

Junior college students from Illinois and four surrounding states are expected to attend the affair which is designed to acquaint prospective JC transfers with SIU.

The student panel will be made up of junior college graduates now attending SIU.

William McKeefery, SIU dean of academic affairs, will welcome the visitors at a 9 a.m. session in Muckelroy Auditorium, Agriculture Building. Admissions Director Jerre Pfaff also will address the group. Meetings with academic advisers, campus tours and a baseball game between SIU and Ohio State University are other events on the Guest Day program.

FIFTEEN PLAN FLORIDA TRIP

Like many other students tired of winter weather and study, Canton College students will be looking for sunshine and fun in the south during spring vacation.

At least 15 CCC students told LANCER reporters they expect to spend April 12-21 in Florida. Several sophomores said they would stop off in Kentucky enroute to visit Murray State.

Among those Florida bound are: Larry Rogers, Terry Wray, Larry Sarff, John Grady, Nick Scheirer, Steve Schmidt, Steve Brugger, Ron Torrey, Jim McDonald, Steve Smith, Gary Meyers, Larry Alred, John Grady, Becky Stephens. Most of them are going to Daytona, others to Clearwater.

A number of students asked about their plans for spring break said they would probably stay home and wish they were in Florida.

Weather is unimportant apparently to others, such as Tanda Gates who claims Alaska is her destination, and Paula Sprowls, Steve Quill and Garry McCray who plan to visit relatives and friends in New York. Ken Ward expects to take off for Lake Geneva, Wis.

A loyal Cardinal fan, Marisue Minor, told a reporter she will go to Chicago to visit a brother and watch "the Cardinals slaughter the Chicago Cubs."

Other responses to "nosy" reporters:

Steve Mitchell -- Visiting WIU.

Peggy Shirley -- Staying home and working.

Charles Wickwire -- Rock hunting for my geology notebook.

Rod Schwitzer -- Maybe down to the Gulf Coast.

Mike Baker -- To Chicago to take a test so I can get my third class FCC license.

Fred Harms and Robbie Pollard -- To Florida.

John Horaney -- Stay home and work on my psych term paper.

Dan Crafton -- See about my job in Chicago.

FMT Class Has On-The-Training

Unloading a field cultivator, Canton College Farm Tech students carefully guide the machine into the rear of Swartzbaugh Hall.

Farm machinery valued at about $240,100 is being assembled by 48 Farm Machine Technology freshmen at Canton College.

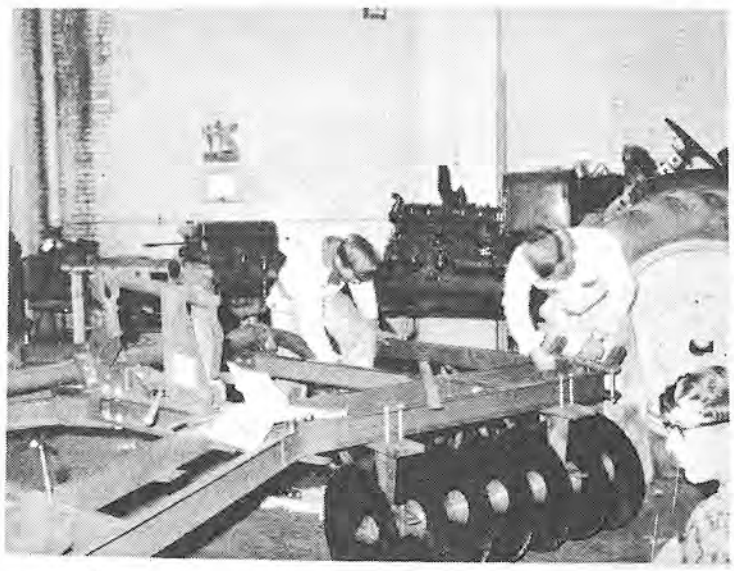

Over 16 different kinds of farm machine units from 10 different farm machinery dealers in the area pass through the doors of Swartzbaugh and Essex halls as students learn more about machinery set-up.

In groups of four students with a tech instructor acting as foreman, freshmen spend a greater part of each day reading instructions and putting together tillage equipment. The instructors are Jesse Bradshaw, Harold Huber, Harold Wheeler and Don Whitten.

The equipment ranges from five - to six-bottom plows, 15 to 21-foot discs, cultivators 14-18 feet long, 10 to 12-foot cultimulchers, four-row planters, mowers and a manure spreader. All of the equipment comes to the shops packed as if it were sent straight from the factory.

After each machine is assembled, an instructor inspects the piece of equipment. If it meets his approval, it is sent back to the dealer. Area dealers not only supply the machinery, but also pay costs of transporting it to Canton.

Although no charge is made for furnishing the machinery nor for the work done on it since it is an educational project, one student estimated that at $1.00 a hour for labor, the amount of work done in the four-week period would amount to $4,800.

With an instruction book nearby in case there's a snag, Farm Tech Freshmen carefully assemble a disc.

Easter bunnies, arriving early in Dahm Hall lobby, draw admiring glances from Mrs. Myrna Harms, Marchia Shumaker, Wayne DeMott and Gary Meyers.

ICC CAGERS CHALLENGE CCC ALL-STARS

Last week, Illinois Central College intramural basketball team challenged Canton College's intramural All-Star team.

The game is to be played before the spring vacation. The site is expected to be in Canton, Illinois. Central has no facilities for basketball yet.

Canton's All-Star team will be comprised of players chosen from various teams in the intramural league. Those players, as selected by Charles Black, head of the program, are as follows: Dan Fife, Dick Harris, Bill Stark, Mike Murphy, Brad Belshaw, Keith Engle, Roger Golden, Don Manier, Jim Fustin, Jim Green, Jim Cain, Steve Ladd, and Dan Hagaman. Black commented, "I haven't seen ICC's team but I think we will do all right. We have some very talented players in our league this year."

Illinois Central players will mostly be Peoria areans enrolled in the intramural program.

There are hopes of having a traveling trophy for the event in the future.

PICK "PETE" OVER BIG "E"

By Mike Murphy

It's a bird, it's a plane, it's.. Superman - disguised as Pete Maravich. He's Louisiana States' high-flying, mild-mannerd basketball star. At 165 pounds, he certainly is no match for Superman but ask his opponents about Pete and they'll tell you he is the closest thing to him.

Recently Elvin Hayes of Houston was chosen Player of the Year. That honor was definitely accorded him after the U.C.L.A. game. Hayes poured in 39 points and grabbed 24 rebounds. He baked in glory until the end of the year.

Elivn's scoring average was 32.1 during the regular season. Houston is an independent school (one that does not belong to any specific conference or league). The caliber of teams they played this season was truly weak. The exception was, of course, U.C.L.A. They split two games with them and the second meeting was a devasting victory for the Bruins. Furthermore the Cougars lost to Ohio State, one of the least impressive teams to represent the Big Ten in years.

While Elvin was playing against mostly small schools, Maravich was plagued by defenses put up by such awesome powers as Kentucky, Vanderbilt, and Tennessee. Southeastern Conference teams are known for great basketball and good defense. Pete averaged close to 46 points a game in competition far superior to what Hayes had to deal with.

The "Big E" is 6'9½" and a good shot. This in itself will make him a great pro (he signed last wek with the San Diego Rockets of the NBA for $440,-000).

"Pistol" Pete is but a sophomore and at 6'5 he has a fabulous career ahead of him. According

Con't. To Col. 4

BELSHAW'S INTRAMURAL CHAMPS

Capt. Brad Belshaw's Team No. 4 won the intramural basketball championship in a playoff March 25.

Awarded "Intramural Champions" sweathirts were Belshaw's teammates: Terry Koch, Keith Engle, Mike Murphy, Bob Hagaman, Dick Meade, Jim Cain, Jim Moshier and Kent Mann.

Before the championship game Teams No. 2 and No. 3 met with Team No. 2 coming out on top of a 65-59 score.

About an hour later teams No. 2 and No. 4 clashed for the title. For the first half it was a pretty tight ballgame. The second half was a different story when one of the best performers for Team No. 2 fouled out just two minutes into the second half. With only five players left to try to regain the lead, Team No. 2 fought valiantly but the eventual champs outlasted them.

NAME J.C. ALL-AMERICAN CAGE TEAM

In a recent news release by the National Junior College Athletic Association, the 1968 Junior College All-American Basketball team was announced.

The first team consisted of: Wayne Canaday, Vincennes, Ind.; Joe Hamilton, Christian College, Dallas, Texas; Cliff Meeley, Northwestern College, Sterling, Colo.; Frank Streety, Broome Tech, Binghamton, N.Y.; Ollie Taylor, San Jacinto College, Pasadena, Texas.

The second team All-American squad was composed of: Jim Brooks, Tyler, Texas; Spencer Haywood, Trinidad, Colo.; John Napier, Miami-Dade North College, Miami, Fla.; Bobby Sands, Mercer College, Trenton, N.J.; Phillip Savoy, Rochester, Minn.

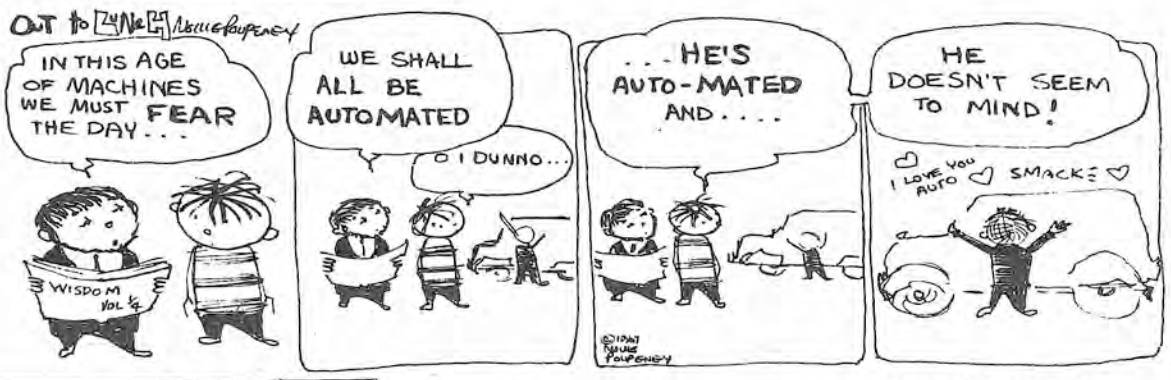

Three players who competed against CCC's Crusaders during the past season are on the third place squad. They are: Fred Brown, Burlington Junior College, Burlington, Iowa; Len Bryant, Illinois Valley College, LaSalle; Paul Lusk, Mineral Area College, Flat River, Mo.

On the honorable mention team was Bob Eldridge from Robert Morris Junior College at Carthage.

SURPASS LAST YEARS WINS

Already showing signs of being a much stronger team than last year, the Crusaders won their first game of the 1968 season, defeating Western's freshmen 9-1.

They dropped the second game of the opening doubleheader April 1 at Canton's Atheletic Park by a score of 0-5.

Before meeting Joliet the following Saturday here, the Crusaders traveled to Iowa where they tangled with Burlington. There CCC won the second game 10-6 after dropping the first one 6-7.

Last year the team won only one contest. Danny Johnson was the winning pitcher for that game and the first win this year. Against WIU on April 1, he allowed only two hits while walking three opponents in seven innings on the mound.

Jesse Ponce, outstanding catcher on last year's team, caught both games in the opening doubleheader, got a double in the first game resulting in two RIBs.

Shortstop Mike Gronewold, who saw action in both the first-day games, slammed a ball over the left field fence to drive in two runs in the fifth inning of the first game.

At Burlington April 2 a homer in the first inning by a member of the host team startled Coach Harry Smith's Crusaders. But Ron Gardner, Crusader third baseman, countered with a grand slam in the fourth inning to put Canton ahead 4-2.

Grand slams became almost as common as new folk groups when Burlington's Bill Merchant connected for one in the fifth. The Iowa team scored again in the sixth, overcoming Canton's runs in the fifth and seventh innings.

In the second game, the Crusaders scored four runs in the third, one of them another homer by Gardner. This squelched Burlington who had scored three runs in the second.

Everything went the Crusader's way in the fifth inning. A wild throw by the Iowa pitcher, a walk with the bases loaded, and two sacrifices, cinched the win.

HATS-- HATS-- HATS--

Vicky Hammond steps off for the Easter Parade in a jaunty black and yellow hat in the classic sleek look.

Another new look on the fashion scene for this year is the "30's" look or the "Bonnie and Clyde" styles. This style features the sleek midi look of the 30's with the ever-famous French beret. Although Canton stores don't feature this look, as of yet for the Easter parade, there are hats available with an inspired look of the "30's".

And this season flowers are all the rage again here in the midwest. Flowers to etch the brims of the hats and flowers to completely cover the hats. There are posies of every type from roses in blues and greens to daisies in every shade of the rainbow not to mention many unidentified species in every shape and color to deck an Easter hat in style.

All in all, Easter this year promises to show every style, color and size of hat in the world of women's fashion.
(Hats by Scripps)

Connie Shaffer is ready for any spring event in a sporty straw hat.

In Grandma's day the way to any man's heart was through his stomach, but today any fashion wise girl knows that it takes a lot more than a good meal to turn the boy's heads ... today it takes a pretty face, trimmed by a pretty hat.

With Easter only days away the LANCER found these CCC lovelies to model the hats featured here.

Although the all girl look is in the news lately, the girls found that in Canton it doesn't take all ruffles to make the all girl turn heads. The sleek and taylored look is a feature of many of this season's Easter bonnets with the classic wide-brim and the "man-style" hat made so very popular a few years ago.

"How's this?" says Yvetta Daily in her new "flower garden" hat.
